*

Visible Speech employs phonetic vocabularies and other oddities to visually reproduce conversations. Not only as a stand alone unit, but also as a part of a collective act when combined with other modules.
It communicates by using constructed and non-constructed languages, through alphabets read by both humans and machines.